

All I Think About is Girls

© 2003 Jim Chaps

Got myself a problem,
And I've got it pretty bad,
And I need to talk about it my girlfriend's fightin' mad,
I just can't seem to stop the looking,
and I'm trying best I can,
I'm too young to be a dirty old man.

Waitress in the restaurant was looking right at me.
I hoped my girlfriend wouldn't notice,
I pretended not to see.
Can't get that waitress off my mind now,
And I'm trying best I can;
I'm too young to be a dirty old man.

CHORUS ONE:

Every nice lady I have ever seen,
Walking in the mall or on a putting green,
Plus-sized or petite, or somewhere inbetween,
They can wear the leather stuff or shiny silk and pearls,
Foreign types, domestics,
City types, or rurals... All I think about is girls.

So I go to the doctor and she's looking right at me
She said "What seems to be the problem?"
I said, reluctantly,
"Can't get you women off my mind now, Doc,
I'm trying best I can. Do you think that I'm a dirty man?
And she said, "Oh no, you're just a typical man."
I said, Good,

CHORUS TWO:

Every nice lady I have ever seen
On a TV set, or on a movie screen, on a calendar in the garage or in a magazine,
Wurr thurr hurr long and straight,
or with the little curls,
Business suits or Daisy Dukes,
Singulars or plurals... All I think about is girls.

BRIDGE: Girls, girls, girls

REPEAT CHORUS ONE

Credits

This song is dedicated to Johnny Cash and Bob Hope. Both of these entertainment role-models and legends passed away in 2003. Two of my favorite Johnny Cash songs are upbeat and amusing... A Boy Named Sue and One Piece At A Time. Bob Hope's comedy would frequently parody men's attraction to women. So to Cash and Hope, thanks for the laughter and the memories. Think you guys would enjoy this one. Jim
